I have lived at my home for the last 50 yrs at the end of my street there has been a "Bike club" which has never caused myself or friends any cause for concern in all this time - basically you have no idea anyone is even there

In older days, friend & Family were called Klan.
They watched over those who had neither of the above.

Today its a "club" for lots of people who have no family, except for the badge on their backs and are proud of it as all clubs are. Bikes, Sports, Scouts racing cars or Targan - They all wear them
