Subject: Treat them as terrorist's

I would like to remain anonymous.

Why don't you treat outlaw motorcycle gangs as terrorist's, because that is exactly what they are. They have infested many levels of society causing countless levels of grief and anguish to many different people. They have capabilities that are used to cause fear, intimidation and terror to people from all walks of life. They have tracking capabilities. They can find out where you live, where you work, track your routines to use to their advantage. They use highly toxic chemicals acquired from associates in the aviation industry to poison the interior of people's vehicles rendering that vehicle inoperable and basically written off, costing countless thousands in money, not to mention impacting on the health of the recipient. These capabilities aren't just limited to one area or a city or even a state. These capabilities are Australia wide. Whatever laws that are implemented to combat OMCG's should be harsh and extreme to disrupt, disband and destroy these evil terrorist organisations.
