Subject: Let them wear colours

I say let them wear colours because it's not about intimidating people they wear them because they are proud to be apart of it they are not criminals or a so called gang! most of the people I know that are apart of a club would go above and beyond to help someone if they needed it...

We love our bikes and the people we choose to ride them with I'm a 27 year old that's apart of a club I have two young children and a full time job so how would it be acceptable for me to be punished for riding my bike or even wearing a t-shirt with my club on it.
